“Notable Quotes” – June 8, 2009

- “Elegantly mixing mortar!” - nice word picture from Mitesh Smart’s speech
- “It’s actually between Iraq and a hard place!” - Paula Hickman, answering Jerome Kalisz’s Table Topics question “Iraq, or Iran?”
- “Evil almost always works, but good ultimately conquers evil in the end.” - Bruce Gould, responding to the Topics question “Good, or Evil?”
- “Toastmasters is one of the few places in life where the ratio of critics to doers is even. You have three speakers, and you have three evaluators.” - Karl Righter, from his speech on evaluation. “However,” he added, “if you count these little anonymous surface-to-air missiles (yellow evaluation slips) that we receive at the end of the program, then the ratio of critics to doers tips back in favor of the critics.”

Toastmasters Chatter

- New CC – congratulations to newly elected President Troy Sands for completing the requirements for his Competent Communicator designation.
- We’re Distinguished once again! – with Troy Sand’s new CC, 1066 is assured of qualifying for President’s Distinguished Club again this year. This has been a perennial award for our great club almost every year going back to 1968!

Top ten signs the economy is bad:

1066 is now only 9.95

Orange County Tax Collector Earl Wood has been reduced to playing Miniature Golf

General Motors had to lay off 25 congressmen

Delta lost $100 million last year, and that was just luggage

Disney has been affected. Snow White had to let go six of her seven dwarfs!

Sea World is no longer a theme park. It is now an all-you-can-eat seafood buffet.

Equestrian Madonna recently injured herself falling off a coin-operated horse

Baseball players are now testing positive for Valium

Dick Cheney took his stock broker hunting

Colonel Sanders has been eating at Popeye's

Tiger Woods has been scalping his Magic tickets

(OK, so it's a Top Eleven this week! Couldn't leave any of them off the list)
