2010 Scholarship Contest A Huge Success

The 2010 Earl K. Wood Student Scholarship Speech Contest was held April 19th, and it was a huge success! This event recognizes public speaking excellence in Orange County graduating high school seniors as it also honors a distinguished 54-year member of our club, Honorary Life Member Earl K. Wood, DTM. Boone High senior Andrew Stucker took home the first prize of a $1,000 scholarship with his flawless speech about making a difference in this world through service to his faith. The second prize $500 scholarship went to Casey Brown of Trinity Preparatory School. Forty-one people were there to watch the 8 contestants and all of them did a fantastic job. Dennis Wooldridge, DTM was the keynote speaker and inspired the contestants to focus on the 3 'P's, not necessarily the 'P's you're thinking of, but a very entertaining and inspiring speech, nonetheless. All in all it was another great speech and honorary life member Earl K. Wood gave the club and the contestants some inspiration during his speech – when he makes it to 100 years old, it will be quite a party in Las Vegas!

Total list of contestants:

Kelsey Beck, Winter Park High
Hilary Kelly, Bishop Moore
Andrew Stucker, Boone High
Nicole Pinto, Colonial High
Duresey Nemorin, Jones High
Sonya Nguryen, West Orange High
Casey Brown, Trinity Preparatory School
Zachery Despain, Apopka High
